Make time count -- don't count time!

JOHN J. WELLS

John J. "Jack" Wells, a veteran state trooper and long time Antioch resident, has been named the new Antioch Police Chief.

The announcement came from an undisputable source and so ends a month long search for a successor to Jack C. Davis, the retiring chief.

Wells will take over the reins of the department on June 1st, following his retirement from the State Police.

He assumes the post with a long list of credits to his name. In his 22 years of service as a State Trooper, Sergeant Wells has attended numerous police schools, has been awarded a host of honors for bravery, was an instructor at the State Police Academy and was a member of a special contingent of state troopers chosen to guard the late Governor Adlai Stevenson during his bid for the presidency in 1952.

In addition to his other credentials, he was the sergeant in charge of a special unit of state troopers who provided police protection during the strike by Waukegan Police in 1970. He remained in Waukegan for eight months to reorganize and coordinate the creation of a new force.

The greying father of five, was born in Chicago on June 7th, 1919 and lived in Oak Park from 1925 until 1941.

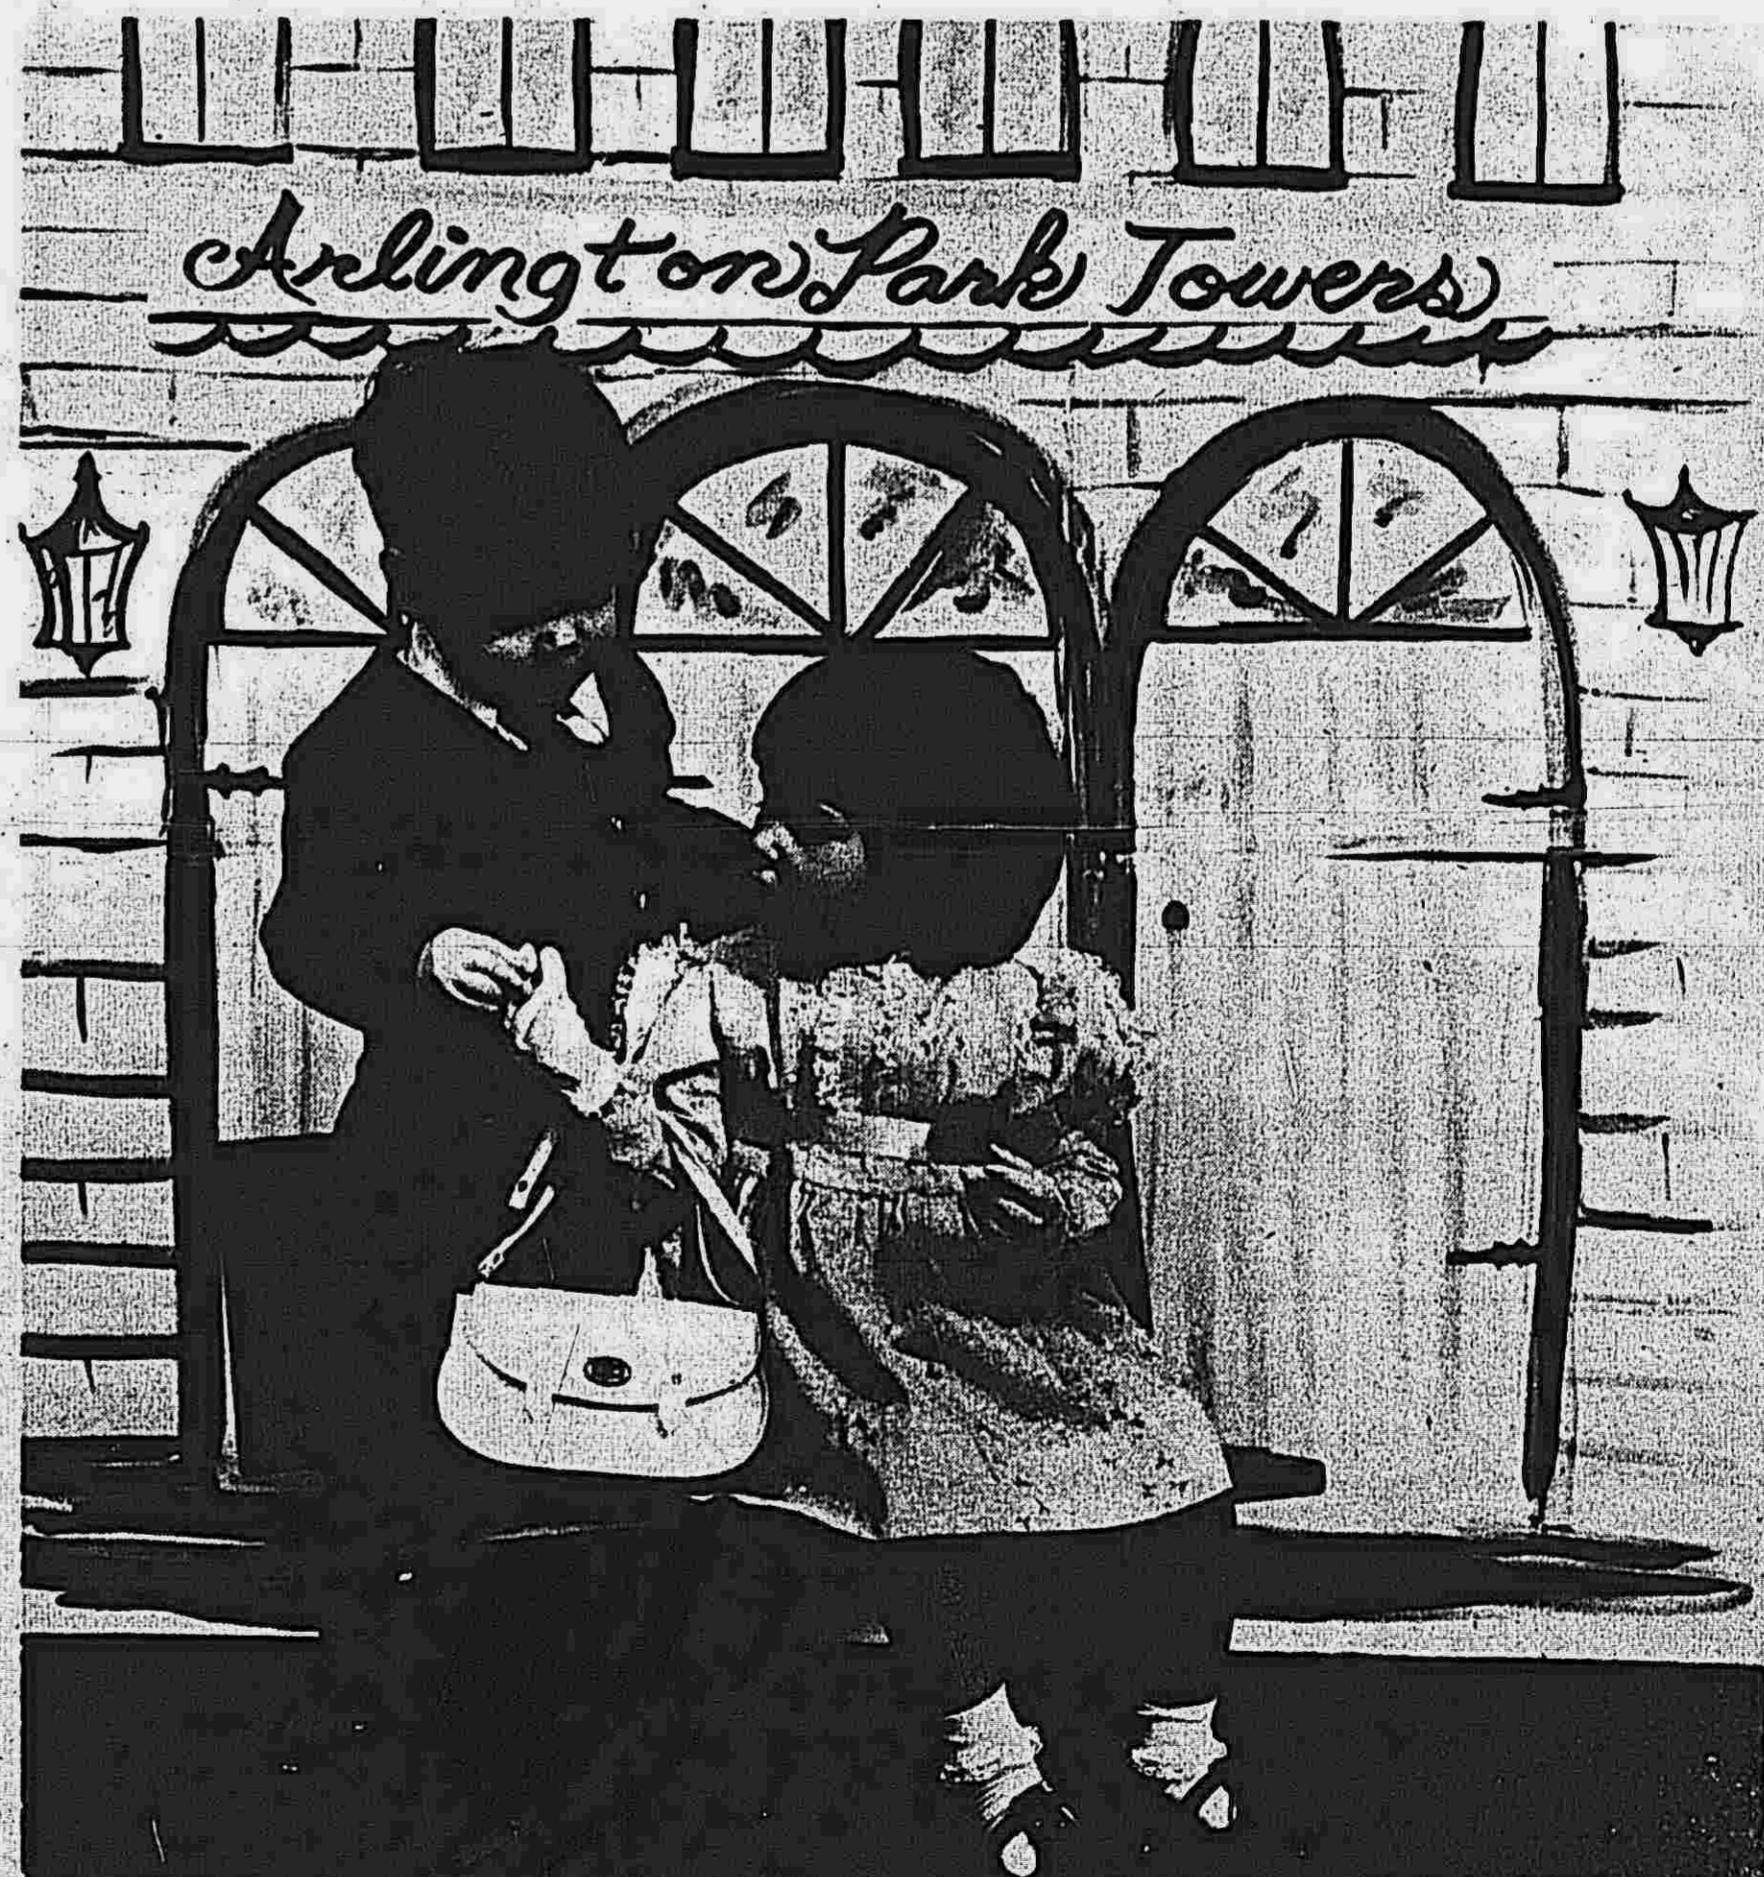

He saw service in the South Pacific in World War Two and was discharged as a first sergeant.

Following his return, he worked at the Willowdale Dairy for four years, while making Antioch his family's permanent home.

His police career began in 1950 when he qualified for the State Police under the, then new merit system. He was promoted to Corporal in 1960 and to Sergeant in 1967. His entire career has been spent in District 2, headquartered in Elgin.

Sergeant Wells and his family live on Route 173 in Antioch. Wells and his wife, Kathryn, have been married 31 years and have five children: Jack Jr., Terry, Tim, and two married daughters, Mrs. Walter Henning, Jr., and Mrs. Terry Folbrick.

Village Authorizes Sewer Study

Area homeowners who confronted the Antioch Village Board at a recent meeting after helplessly watching their basements flood with unwanted water are in for some encouragement.

At an April 24th meeting, the village group commissioned the engineering firm of McClure and Leckman of Grayslake to make a multi-faceted study of village drainage, streets, traffic and parking facilities.

The study, which has a maximum cost ceiling of $35,600 would be started almost immediately.

The project would commence with an aerial survey to create topographic maps, which would give an exact physical configuration of village land. The photos would show the natural drainage flow and a later study would indicate how to harness it to the best advantage. Engineer Jerry Leckman, one of the partners, noted that the survey would begin almost immediately, so that new leaves on the trees would not hamper the study. The photos would cover an area of 1,700 acres.

The sewer system project would also include an evaluation of the present drainage system; the development of a completely new comprehensive system using the present facilities; and preparation of a long range financing program to pay for the new storm water plans.

The financing study would include the use of Village

Grass Lake To Run Referendum

The Grass Lake School Board has announced that it will run a two part referendum package on Saturday, June 3rd.

According to District 36 Superintendent William Hart the special election will ask voters to approve a building referendum and a rate increase in the Building Fund.

First on the ballot will be a $295,000 building referendum to construct an addition and to repair and equip the present school building.

The addition would house an eight classroom wing, art and science areas, a resource library and expand the present office facilities. The addition would enlarge the present building by nearly 50%.

The second half of the measure is a proposed Building Fund rate increase from $.25 to $.55 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The $.30 increase would cover additional upkeep, repair, maintenance and supply costs and would enlarge the present budget of $19,936.60 to $43,860.52.

Hart explained that the addition was urgently needed. The present enrollment of 330 students is anticipated to mushroom to 450 within two or three years. The average growth rate is approximately 8 to 10 percent.

He said that the school's P.T.A. board and citizens groups were currently engaged in working to make the referendum a success.

Lone polling place for the measure will be the Grass Lake School. Polls will be open from Noon to 7 P.M.

HIGH SCHOOL Dept. Chairmen Lament Budget Cuts

In the wake of recent program and teacher reductions at the high school, department chairmen have had to scrutinize their programs and attempt to provide the best services possible from what has been left them.

Three department chairmen who have been particularly hard hit and hard pressed to make due with curtailed programs are currently assessing the position their programs are in.

According to Athletic Director Ward Lear the cuts in freshmen athletics will have a large impact on the overall sports program. "In a very short period of time - two years at the most - football wise, there's no way we can compete," he said.

"This is where you create your interest. Your interest is created in the grade school and continues on in the lower levels. Our greatest dropout rate is between the sophomore and junior years."

"The bad part about it is the greatest amount of participation, as far as game competition and individual competition is at the levels we're cutting out. But when you have to cut, you have to start somewhere and this was a group decision."

Stuart Good, Chairman of the Industrial Arts Department said that the effect of the teacher cuts and budget reductions would be to penalize the non-college bound student.

"Speaking for my own department, you're depriving students of greater exposure and greater vocational orientation or vocational training," he said. "Many students like to work with their hands and don't intend to go on to college. By cutting programs we are depriving the non-college bound student of the opportunity to familiarize himself with another vocational avenue that he could pursue."

Good finished with his own personal thought that "we were hurt but we'll survive. The only problem is that we can't offer what we should."

Music Department Chairman, Ralph Brooke said that the effect of losing one teacher would put the entire load on one man. "It's like trying to run an entire athletic program with only one coach. Nobody would expect that to be done."

He also noted that he thought the cuts in extra curricular programs would probably increase the dropout rate. "With the five hour student class day and perhaps nothing to do or get involved in, there's the possibility of a lot of students with no place to go and nothing to do. A situation like that can become explosive."

WORLD CONFERENCE ON HUMAN ENVIRONMENT

The forthcoming world conference on the Human Environment is far more than a political ploy to appease public opinion. Scheduled to be held in Stockholm from June 5 to June 16, it is expected that representatives of 130 nations will participate in this historic session.

The event is not simply a meeting of public officials to be sure. The occasion will provide a forum for discussion by the more than 2,000 delegates, experts, and observers who will invade Stockholm the first week in June. In addition, it will set the stage for world-wide action.

Under the direction of its Secretary-General, Maurice Strong, a young Canadian industrialist, a 27 nation Preparatory Committee has spent 4 years in carefully planning and organizing this world conference.

In order to make the occasion meaningful to large and small nations, as well as to industrially developed and less developed countries, the Preparatory Committee has set broad goals and has established a comprehensive agenda.

The Conference will divide into 3 main areas:

1. PLANNING AND MANAGEMENT OF HUMAN SETTLEMENTS FOR ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

Under this title, the conference will consider the relentless movement of people to the great urban centers. The overcrowding, housing, sanitation and related problems will be studied. Ways and means of encouraging people to remain in rural areas will be considered. The slums of the American cities will be weighed along with the shantytowns that surround most South American and Asian cities.

2. ENVIRONMENTAL ASPECTS OF NATURAL RESOURCES MANAGEMENT

The natural resources of air, land, and water must be considered along with timber, coal, petroleum, gas and uranium. Natural areas and all of the remaining species of plants and animals must be considered as natural resources. The less developed countries of Africa and South America are equally concerned with the people of the industrialized nations in this broad aspect of the Human Environment.

The critical elements of this agenda item are: (a) conservation, (b) management and (c) recycling. Of course, recycling has little application to such depletable natural resources as coal, oil -- and gas. However, timber, water, paper, some metals, and other resources are capable of recycling or renewal by applying existing techniques.

3. IDENTIFICATION AND CONTROL OF POLLUTANTS
OF BROAD INTERNATIONAL SIGNIFICANCE

While pollution of the air and water are concerns primarily of the industrialized nations, an active effort is under way to encourage the developing countries to avoid the despoliation which has been practiced by our own and other highly developed countries.

Air and water pollution as well as pollution from oil spills and other sources can -- and do have international implications. Uniform standards of conduct are essential to assure that every nation will respect the rights of others to the limited air and water resources which are most basic to the existence of human life.

While the scope of the Stockholm conference is far more comprehensive, it appears that positive steps will be taken on 3 fundamental points, namely: (a) Establishment of a world-wide system for monitoring and reporting on sources and degrees of air and water pollution, (b) Creation of a Center for gathering and disseminating scientific and technological information which might contribute to the protection of the Human Environment, and (c) Establishment of a World Environmental Fund to support those relevant activities of an international nature.

If the Stockholm Conference achieves substantial world support for these goals, the chances of an indefinite survival of mankind on the planet Earth - will be greatly improved.

ENDING ON A GOOD NOTE

Some people live only for survival, others to make progress. In my 4 years as Police Chief I hope I have shown that I did my best to live for other people, the greatest investment in the world.

In my dealings with the youth and people in general I hope that my intentions were always to better mankind. Sometimes that requires great understanding, sometimes discipline, and at other times forgiving harshness. I am sure that I have succeeded many times and I'm sure that at times I did not succeed. However, I always did what I thought was best in the present circumstances and that is all I could do.

My years as Police Chief were happy ones and there are few if any regrets. And I want to express my gratitude to all the people I have been fortunate to work with these past years, the Mayor, the Village Board and most of all the greatest people in the world, the PEOPLE OF ANTIOCH.

My sincerest thanks to the Antioch News Editor and Rev. Eugene Keusal for their editorial and letter previously printed in this paper. And to the many people for their thoughtfulness, their notes and phone calls were greatly appreciated.

EDITORIAL

Words to Live by

Mr. John W. Gardner, former Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, writing in The Reader's Digest, asks, "Suppose that you could offer one word of advice to a young person living in the year 2000. One word! What would it be?" Mr. Gardner has posed this question to many friends over the past several years. He found the most frequently mentioned word was "Live". Live ranked among the three words most often mentioned for first place. The other two words were "love" and "Learn".

After these first three words, Mr. Gardner found that agreement breaks down for choice of a fourth, a fifth and so on. However, after much searching and meditating, he arrived at what he calls, "Seven Words to Live By." He placed them in the following order: "Live, love, learn, think, give, laugh, try." As a final observation he asked: "Can you pack better advice into seven words?"

DISAGREES WITH BOARD DECISIONS

The purpose of a Board of Education is to set or confirm policies that will provide for maximum academic education of the students in their district, working with the funds the community provides, no matter how large or small.

The Antioch High School Board of Education appears to have compromised their purpose by retaining athletics at the expense of academics. This is a decision that will prevent major objections by the fathers of high school athletes, but does not meet the obligation the Board has to provide for the best education.

At the Board meeting on April 19, confusion resulted when the Board attempted to establish all the administrative details, as well as set policy, on the simple matter of mowing the grass on the baseball field. If the complex matter of educational priorities has been handled in a similar manner, the mass of administrative details and lack of school administrative experience by the board probably clouded their purpose - to set policy to achieve the best education for Antioch students.

The members of the board have good intentions and have probably worked longer hours than any member of the community would understand or believe. I personally feel they came to a poor policy decision on the cutbacks for the coming year. Perhaps they have worked so hard on administrative details, which they should not be doing, that they "can't see the forest for the trees."

I ask the board to let the administration do the administrating - and to spend their time on setting or confirming policies that will provide for maximum academic education for the students at Antioch High School.

Additional H.S. Budget Cuts

Bloodletting at the Antioch High School has apparently ended, as the District 117 Board moved to cut an additional $50,768 from the budget for the 1972-73 school year.

The decision came at a Wednesday, April 19th special board meeting and culminated budget reductions that have amounted to more than $250,000 over a two year period.

According to board president William Brook: "Substantially, that's about it. Anything of major importance has now been handled."

Cuts announced were essentially those proposed at an earlier meeting and included the elimination of all freshman and junior varsity level athletics, removal of the Adult Education Program and the reduction of five non-certified positions. Those not rehired would be a full time clerk, two part-time bus drivers, a part-time switchboard operator and a part-time cafeteria worker.

Also dropped from the budget were all extra curricular teaching increments, except those for the Girl's Athletic Association sponsor, ticket manager, Student Council sponsor and music.

Fringe benefits for all part-time, non-certified personnel were eliminated as well as reductions in Diversified Occupations, Music and telephone service.

The board also voted to institute a five hour, overlapping student schedule which would eliminate student study halls and free periods, and which would mean the dismissal of three supervisors.

After the budget cuts were approved, the board made alterations in certain policies to increase revenues by $12,289. The unanimous vote decision will allow school administrators to hike the textbook rental fee from $8 to $10, increase by five cents the price of student meals (40 cents to 45 cents) and to institute a $10 fee for all sports participants. Fees for Home Economics, Art and Business Education will also be created.

Following the budget cuts and fee hikes, a lively discussion ensued between board members and the audience. District 117 Superintendent Albert Dittman answered charges of heavy cuts in certain programs by noting that the board had made cuts in all areas. He explained that the board had attempted to retain a good, comprehensive school program, while at the same time making needed budget reductions.

New Chief Labels Himself 'Hard-nosed but Reasonable'

"The police committee and mayor have assured me the complete charge of the department."

These are the words of Antioch's newly named Chief of Police, Jack Wells, and if he has his way about it, that's exactly how it will be.

The experienced and confident State Police sergeant told something of his plans for the department during a one hour exclusive interview with NEWS Editor, Joseph Rush.

"I'm really looking forward to working in a small area," he said. "When you work in a large area like District Two that includes three counties, you tend to get impersonal now, on a smaller scale, such as here in Antioch you can really get involved."

Wells noted that he has a few ideas going for him as he comes in, "but, I'm going to make a staff study for a day or two." He noted that when he takes over he intends to find things out on his own, using observation. "I want to find out just what area or areas we need to improve."

The sergeant, who categorizes himself as "hard nosed but not unreasonable", said that when he takes charge "there are a couple areas that any department can upgrade. For one thing, I believe in walking. Getting out of the car and checking on things. I don't mean to create a beat walker, but the men should be on foot once in a while."

He later explained that changes in habits and lack of an iron routine could confuse would be law breakers and so act as a deterrent to crime. "I believe in unorthodox measures. When you deal with crime you've got to fight fire with fire."

"Personally, I see the chief's duties as a liaison between the citizens and the village. You can't reduce the chief to an ordinary trooper by making him waste his time. When I take over as chief, I'll be in the office and available."

Another aspect of his new position would be to meet the citizens. He said he was going to spend time walking himself. "The people I don't know I intend to meet. Whether on Main Street or at meetings, it's the job of the chief of police to know his community."

Wells said he intended to upgrade the training for the department. "We'll operate here the same way as the State Police in a lot of ways. I know the State Police are a lot bigger, but the similarity exists."

Continuing with an earlier point about his approach toward his new job, Wells said that he was a fair man. "A police officer doesn't use his badge to further his own private animosities. We will be a fair department" he said. "You can't regulate a person's dress or looks. If any of my men try it they'll be in trouble."

The 52 year old new Chief ended the discussion by noting he was optimistic about the new position. "I'm really looking forward to it or I wouldn't have made the move," he said. "This is a revitalizing thing for me. The chance to institute practices that I've always thought would work. I guess you could say every policeman is a frustrated chief of police."

HOMEOWNER SAVES

DROWNING MAN

A vigilant area homeowner saved the life of a fisherman who had fallen into Channel Lake after his boat capsized on Wednesday.

Mrs. Pat Bever of Channel Lake was doing her housework when she took time out to watch a fisherman. Suddenly the man's boat began rocking and he sank from sight.

"I'll never be the same," said Mrs. Bever. "I've seen some close calls but this is the first time anything has actually happened."

Mrs. Bever and her husband Larry alerted another fisherman who quickly got to the scene and helped the man aboard.

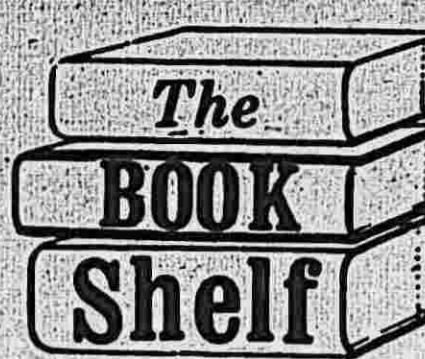

The victim of the mishap was Conrad Chrisp, 62, of Glenview. Following the accident he was taken to Waukegan's Victory Memorial Hospital. After a three day stay he was discharged and is recuperating at his Glenview home.

Remember When?

Remember when? We don't, but maybe some of you do. It is Antioch or the people from Antioch. For the next few weeks we will publish a photo from a time long past in hopes for some it might spark a fond memory.

If you should happen to know when and where, let us know! We are sure many would be interested. Also if any of you have a very interesting "remember when" photo of Antioch and would like to share a memory or two with others, we will try to print it for you.

On an insurance application, a man came upon the question: What did you do while in the service? The applicant wrote in large letters, "AS TOLD."

The street improvement plan would include a detailed mapping of all village streets and recommendations for the appropriate type and depth of surfacing materials. The study would be made by the use of technical cross sections.

The traffic study would be based on figures showing use of heavily travelled streets and recommendations to alleviate the problem.

The Grayslake based firm would also make a detailed parking study. Evaluating the present facilities and making recommendations concerning the location, type and capacity of future parking areas.

Following the creation of the various surveys the engineering firm would assist the village in evaluating and producing any actions to be taken.

The firm has previously done studies for various other communities, including Grayslake and according to reports have done extremely creditable work.

The Remember When picture today comes from Mrs. Wertz. Art Wertz called this week and identified last week's picture as North Main Street looking toward the Grade School (on the right). He said that he put two horse shoes in one of the trees shown, and wonders if they are still there. Among the trees you can see the Old Williams homes.

After seeing many interesting places they went to the observatory tower which made some feel certain they would not care to be the first woman astronaut. After the tour, the group had luncheon in the Kon Tiki room. It's Polynesian decor made it an exciting place to end the day.

A short business meeting was held during the luncheon. The nominating committee presented the list of nominees for offices for the coming year. New members welcomed into the club were Mrs. Arnold Weber, Mrs. Walter Delaney, Mrs. Evelyn LaFato, Mrs. Lester Shaeffer.

DRAWING THE FIGURE IN MOTION... We live in a rapidly moving world and we need to capture this pace in our figure drawing. When we draw the figure in motion we should learn to eliminate unnecessary detail and look for the main lines of motion.

A good exercise for learning this is to lay onion skin tracing paper over photographs of sports figures and draw in three main lines of action. Then try to find five main lines, then seven. As you put in more lines you will notice that the drawing loses its feeling of movement.

The problem of drawing continuous action has never been satisfactorily solved. In the painting, "Nude Descending a Stairway," Marcel Duchamp tried to show the changes in movement as a figure moved down step by step. It is a complicated composition by an accomplished artist. An easier way to capture the motion of the moving figure is to stop the action, camera-like, on a single phase. The start or the end of a motion is the easiest, such as a baseball player's pose before he

GRASS LAKE CELEBRATES ARBOR DAY

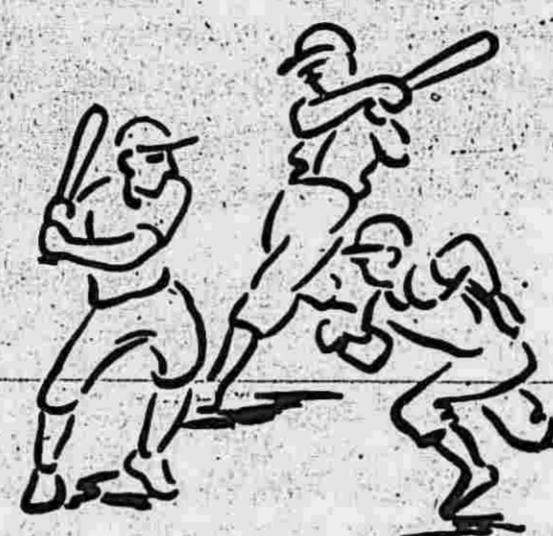

On Friday, April 28, 1972 the 5th grade classes will observe Arbor Day. This year marks the 100th anniversary of this observance in the State of Illinois. Arbor Day originated in Nebraska in the year, 1872. The name Arbor Day was conceived by J. Sterling Morton who served as the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

Grass Lake School began a local forestry program in 1960 and since that time have planted between 200 - 250 trees annually on the school property.

Also to be noted at this year's Arbor Day program is adoption of the State of Illinois tree. Although the Oak tree is considered the state tree, there are about 19 species of oak with about 8 of these common state wide. The state legislature earlier this year organized a state wide voting for school children to select the species of oak to become the state tree. The White Oak was selected by students at the Grass Lake School and Lake County. Final state wide selection will be forthcoming.

Again this year about 200 trees will be planted beginning at 9:00 a.m. on the 28th and the public is invited to attend the program.

swings, or his stance at the end of the swing, before he starts to run.

Watch for directional lines in the folds and wrinkles of clothing, the seams on shoulders, and belts. These lines are very important in explaining the motion. After you have learned from photographs to reduce the figure to a few lines, have your friends go thru simple slow motion actions which you will attempt to capture in the fewest lines possible. Gradually work up to normal movements.

Mystery Drama Is PM&L's Next Production

Although passers-by may have thought that PM&L's were rehearsing for FIDDLER ON THE ROOF this past weekend as numerous hard working men (and a few staunch women) under the direction of roofer Frank Skrzyniecki tore the old roof off from the PM&L Theatre and put the first layer of the new roof on—it is really WAIT UNTIL DARK that is in rehearsal.

Wait Until Dark, a spine-tingling Mystery drama, will be presented on May 5, 6, 12, 13, 19, and 20 at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch. Curtain Time is 8:30. Call 395-9702 for reservations.

The cast members include both old and new faces and come from all over the near-by area. Dena Fabry from Lindenhurst plays the blind girl; Susie Hendrix. It is a very demanding role and completely different from her appearance as the girl in The Fantasticks and her numerous glamour girl roles in Lend an Ear. Dena is a teacher at the B. J. Hooper School.

Nick Baldassano from Lake Villa plays Sam Hendrix, Susy's photographer husband. Nick joined PM&L as the drummer in The Fantasticks. Since then he played the difficult role of Victor Franz in The Price and is currently directing the workshop production of a cut version of Finian's Rainbow. Nick is with Nick's Body Shop in Lake Villa.

Tony Aird from Round Lake Beach is making his first appearance with PM&L as one of the three villains, Mike Talman. Tony has had much community theatre experience in South Dakota and with the Avon Players. A few of his credits are Sound of Music, Forum, and Odd Couple which he has acted in and then directed for Avon. Tony is a postman in Lake Forest.

A most jovial and talented addition to the PM&L stage is Manny Silverstein from Ingleside who plays villain no. 2, Sgt. Carlino. He is a custodian at the Round Lake Park school and was seen in Come Blow Your Horn at the Antioch Country Club, as Mayor Shinn in Music Man at Round Lake High School, and most recently as the villain in Curse You, Jack Dalton, a PM&L workshop production directed by Tony Aird.

The third villain is director Don Beveroth from Paddock Lake, Wis. Don is a teacher from ACHS and has been in or directed almost 90% of all PM&L productions. As Harry Roat, Jr. he plays the master mind of all villains. Some of his most memorable roles have been Pseudolus in Forum, Mr. Bumble in Oliver, Oscar in The Odd Couple, and a Shakespearean actor in The Fantasticks.

A most charming young lady is ten year old Susie Dyer who plays Gloria, a prying little girl who lives upstairs. Susie is a fourth grader at Emmmons. She has had experience in several school plays -- Hans Brinker, several Christmas plays, and Annabelle's Electothinker.

Community Shelter Plan

In November 1967 the Board of Supervisors signed an agreement with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to develop and present to the public of Lake County a Community Shelter Plan.

The development of this plan was given to the Lake County Regional Planning Commission and financed by the Federal Government at a cost of approximately $48,000.00. The distribution of this plan was the job of Lake County Civil Defense with this being financed by the Federal Government at a cost of approximately $14,000.00.

The new Lake County Community Shelter Plan adopted by the County Board provides for many people to make use of fallout protection in the basement of their homes in the event of attack.

"One goal of our community shelter planning project is to show every citizen where the best available fallout protection is located," Willer said.

The official information will show people in all areas of the county where they would seek fallout protection in the event of an attack upon this country. Although most of the public fallout shelter is to be found in heavily constructed buildings downtown, the basement of a home can offer substantial protection to its residents. Willer said.

Willer stated that the best fallout protection in a home is found in the corner of a basement. He said the best corner of a basement is the one which has the highest outside ground level - that is, the least amount of basement wall sticking up above ground.

Helpful hints

If you have extra whipping cream on hand, whip it then freeze individual portions on a cookie sheet and wrap in foil. Store in the freezer for a quick dessert garnish.

If you're preparing a recipe that calls for unsweetened chocolate and you're out, substitute 1 tablespoon of butter and three tablespoons of cocoa for each 1-ounce square of chocolate.

Does that favorite recipe of your grandmother's call for sour milk? Just substitute the same amount of today's buttermilk right from the carton, or pour 1 tablespoon of lemon juice or vinegar in a measuring cup and add enough milk to make one cup. Let stand 5 minutes before using.

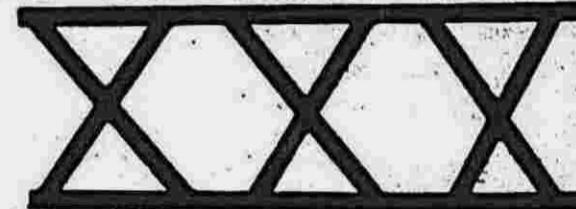

Whipping cream doubles in volume when whipped. If you

Due to a conflict on availability of meeting places, two important affairs will take place the same day - May 21st. The 10th District Legion and Auxiliary Children and Youth Picnic will take place from 11:00 A.M. to 3:30 P.M. at the Lake Regions' Legion Home in Fox Lake. This picnic is for some 150 children from three Lake County Childrens' Homes.

At 4:00 P.M., May 21st, the district Auxiliary's Annual Illini Girls' State Tea will be held at the Gurnee American Legion Home. Mrs. Barbara Klemm, Gurnee, is chairman. More details about these latter events will be given at a later date.

"During the month of May, and Memorial Day especially, our thoughts should be more than ever with our Gold Star Members. These women - mothers, widows, daughters and sisters, whose loved ones sacrificed their lives for our country, deserve honor and respect from all of us" Mrs. J.W. Workun, Fox Lake, District Gold Star Chairman, states. "Naturally, these brave women should be remembered all year, on their birthdays, patriotic holidays, etc. All Units honor their Gold Star members in various ways - with gifts, special parties, luncheons, etc., and a place of honor at all patriotic observances."

Mrs. Workun suggests that when a Gold Star Member dies, that there are a number of ways in which an Auxiliary can show their love and esteem. Books can be given to local libraries in their remembrance; trees or shrubs can be planted as part of a community beautification; or a donation given to any of the health funds, such as cancer, heart, multiple sclerosis, etc., also, many Units are giving memorial contributions to the national American Legion Child Welfare Foundation.

A special luncheon for Gold Star members only will be held at the State Convention in early July, at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago. Further particulars regarding time, place and date have not yet been released from department headquarters.

Antioch Grade School Band Does It Again - Wins State First!

For the sixteenth time out of eighteen appearances the Antioch Grade School Band again soared to a First Divisional rating at the Illinois Grade School Music Association state competition held at Crystal Lake, Saturday.

Under the baton of director George Olisar, the band performed the selections that had won them their ticket to compete in the state contest, these were: SUNBURST by Osterling, VENETIAN HOLIDAY by Olivadoti and BELMONT OVERTURE by Hermann. All three judges, while singling out various technical details for improvement, agreed in praising the musical feeling and interpretation of the young musicians with special emphasis on balance and harmony.

The performance was attended by a large number of Antioch supporters. At its conclusion, a major part of the audience, aware that the band was playing under the handicap of threatened discontinuation, rose in standing ovation. In this connection, the judges departed from usual practice in appending personal notes to their official comment sheets. Some of these should be of interest to concerned members of the community and are included here:

"I am sorry to learn this may be your last performance. Can your district really afford to deny these talented kids the opportunity to learn to live through music? Shame on those who vote out music!"

"Maestoso is effective. Nice preparation for changes, accelerated treatment and final allegro. A nice band sound, George. I hope your community doesn't take these opportunities away from their children. What a tragic mistake it will be."

"I'm sure the parents, School Administration and School Board are very proud of this band and director, and I am also sure that they are very concerned about the students of this band and their future and well being of this band!"

May God bless all concerned!"

After receiving news of their gold medal win, band members returned to Antioch to change into their Sunday best and to meet parents for a victory celebration at Lorenz's Country House.

George Olisar congratulated band members on their outstanding performance and read the comment sheets with a promise to analyze them more fully at the next band meeting. Presentations were also made by band members to the director. On behalf of the band Olisar presented a floral tribute to Mrs. James Bruski in recognition of 20 years as a teacher and a firm supporter of the band since its inception by heading candy drives and functioning as band tour director.

The Band Parents Association presented pins to graduating Eighth Grade members. Those receiving awards were: Judy Bjork, Beth Boyd, Sheila Connors, Larry Ellis, Nancy Halverson, Chuck Herman, John Horton, Robin Hunley, Greg Mieure, Dorothy Nevitt, Danny Nissen, Debbie Petersen, Jim Pierce, Larry Reekers, Sandra Stadick, Patti Thamerus, Mike Ware, Chris Wierzerk, Patty Wilton and Mitch Witt.

Perhaps the best wrap-up of the eventful day was supplied by Band Parent President, Mike Ozga . . . who after apologizing for lack of skill in public speaking, said . . . "I knew we had a first when I listened to the kids and felt a chill run up my spine." Mike spoke true, because in all of this there is a rare and wonderful event that occurs. It is that in the crucible of performance . . . suddenly the months of plodding of practice, of long hours come to fruition in understanding, beauty and truth.

SMOKE Signals

Well, there's only six more weeks of school left or if you're a Senior 27 days! Time sure does go by fast!

Congratulations to all the members of this year's PROM COURT. They are: SANDI STEWART, MARCIA KREOPLIN, JOYCE PACHEY, CAROL WELLS, TAFFY ENGLEHART, GARY SOLAND, FRANK NEVITT, MIKE HARVEY, DEAN VENDL, and SHANE SCHRODER. Prom will be held on May 6th in the Gym with a post prom following it at Brown's Lake Resort. Horseback riding, swimming, and boating will be available at post prom plus a movie will be shown. The theme of this year's prom is Mardi Gras, and tickets are now being sold in the Commons for it so be sure to sign up. The Juniors need your support in order to make the evening successful.

Everyone should know how to vote this November after seeing the Drama department's last show, "Of Thee I Sing" this weekend. A very realistic picture of American politics was presented, don't you think? Those corn muffins really did have a unique flavor all their own. Ask anyone who ate one Saturday night and they'll tell you all about it! The cast celebrated the play's success at TODD SEISSER's house Friday night and invaded Tony and Lill's Saturday night. I'm sure it was an experience that won't be forgotten soon by both the cast and the people who saw it.

The TRACK team did a good job Saturday as they won 2nd place in the Lake Forest Invitational. Twelve schools in all competed in this meet. Congratulations to GARY MANDEHR who placed 1st in the Mile race and the 880, PAT MICHALAK who got a 1st in the high jump and to all the guys on the relay team which placed 2nd.

JEFF GOKEY AND BOB BLANCHETTE will be representing Antioch High at an F.T.A. convention in Springfield this weekend. They will leave Thursday and come back on Saturday afternoon. The club is paying all their expenses because both boys have earned enough service points and have worked very hard for the club.

Thank you to all the people who bought candy from the band and choir. The sales are going good and it looks as though enough money will be raised for camp this summer. See ya next week.

Glen Erickson Featured NIU Jazz Ensemble Spring Concert

The Northern Illinois University Jazz Ensemble will face a challenge Saturday, April 22nd.

Conductor Ronald Modell said the three-year old student organization will face the musical task of exploring new facets of jazz in what he called the ensemble's "most challenging program ever attempted."

The first downbeat from the stage in the University Center ballroom will come at 8:30 p.m. as the NIU Jazz Ensemble combines its spring concert with the windup of Northern's Humanity Week. Admission to the program is open to the public — without charge. No tickets are required.

In addition to a pair of new vocalists and a fistful of new student-written arrangements and original compositions, the ensemble will present favorites from its standard Count Basie, Woody Herman, Stan Kenton repertoire.

The NIU audience will hear Angie Jarecki sing a pair of new arrangements by New York City's Harry Max —

"That's Life" and "What the World Needs Now." Miss Jarecki, who recently sang the role of Lois Lane-Bianca in Northern's University Theatre production of "Kiss Me, Kate", is a Chicago (6240 W. 63rd St.) sophomore.

Student arranger produced new "charts" for a trio of hits to be sung by new ensemble vocalist John H. Willing, DEKALB (205 Normal) junior. Willing will sing "Strange Brew", originally recorded by the rock group Cream, "Find Yourself Another Fool," recorded by Muddy Waters, and "Messin' With the Kid," recorded by Junior Wells. On the Cream and Junior Wells tunes, Willing also will be featured as harmonica soloist.

Modell will add a soloist role to his "leader of the band" stint when he takes up flugelhorn and trumpet for "That's All." Arrangement of the tune, which Modell says is his wife's favorite, will be by lead trumpeter and chief arranger, Glen Erickson of ANTIOCH (R.R. 2) junior.

NIU's award-winning jazz quartet will grow to a quintet with the addition of trombonist Larry McCabe of Aurora (923 Garfield Ave.), who transferred to NIU this semester from Sugar Grove's Waubonsee Community College. McCabe was voted the outstanding trombonist at the Notre Dame Jazz Festival earlier this year. The quintet will play Herbie Hancock's "Maiden Voyage" and "Scarborough Fair" by Simon and Garfunkel.

From its standard repertoire, the ensemble will play Stan Kenton's classic "Malaguena," after opening the program with Count Basie's "Magic Flea," featuring freshman drummer Tom Kincaid of ELK GROVE VILLAGE.

In other numbers, the jazz group will feature the trombone section in Kenton's "Rainy Day," perform its Elmhurst Jazz Festival version of "Reflections," plus "Pontico" from Woody Herman's arrangements.

Included among NIU Jazz Ensemble student arrangements are Steve Heinemann's version of the popular "It Was a Very Good Year" and Jimmy Johnson's original work, "Universal Suite." The latter composition will introduce the ensemble's saxophone section with a new instrument. The sax players will put down their reeds and pick up recorders for the middle section of Johnson's work.

Heinemann is a Palatine freshman; Johnson, a Mount Prospect freshman.

Concluding the program will be a 20 minute suite, arranged by Howie Smith of the NIU faculty, based on all the music from "Jesus Christ, Superstar."

Modell said the NIU Jazz Ensemble would play one more campus concert this year — outdoors by the campus lagoon. He said the program would be in appreciation of the support given the NIU Jazz Ensemble by the Northern Student Association. A date for the lagoon jazz concert will be announced later, based on weather conditions.

Pre-School Screening Project Needs More Children

The Special Education District of Lake County is most appreciative of the cooperation of parents interested in our pre-school screening project.

200 children have now gone through the screening at Avon Center School. More children are needed. Any child who is 3, 4 or 5 but not in kindergarten is eligible. We can also include those children who will be 3 years old by December 1972. The children must live in either unincorporated areas or smaller towns.

A second screening center has been established at Laura Sprague School, Lincolnshire for May 13, 20 and 27. Volunteer helpers are needed for the screening in May.

With a Stern Eye

Although only one more County Board meeting is scheduled before the distribution of Certificates of Merit to the good, grey, retiring members of that eminent body, it seems that the tensions of competitive government are not yet behind us.

At the meeting on April 18th, for instance, the gallery was treated to one of the good old-fashioned donnybrooks for which the Board is justly famous. And although the dialogue was not as specifically rancorous as it was to become later in that meeting, the issue divided the two candidates for Chairman of the to-be-installed-May-1st members: Norm Geary and Ron Coles, the present chairman.

Recently the Board acted to increase the membership of the Sheriff's Merit Commission from three to five members. The whole Merit Commission question is fraught with eccentricity, as a matter of fact. Primarily the Commission is designed to 'take the deputies out of politics' - to protect them and their jobs should partisan politics rear its irrational head among them. According to the rules, no deputy can be expected to campaign for a given individual on county time, nor can he be fired for refusing to do so on county time or on his own.

Having enunciated those noble standards, the law goes on to point out that the members of the Merit Commission are appointed by the Sheriff himself, and approved by the County Board. An interesting way to appoint watchdogs when you consider that Sheriff Clavey was quoted in the local press recently as having said (re the successful campaign to nominate Oscar Lind for Coroner):

"Our opponent called up the Sun Times and complained that I had all my deputies out working for Lind. Well, he was wrong. I had deputies, firemen and police for Lind. I had everybody working for him!"

So much for the system. At any rate, the appointment of two additional members to the Merit Commission was on the Agenda April 18th. In addition to the present three members (Bill Hoyerman, Deerfield; Ken Hamsher, Fox Lake; and Bill Bicket, Zion), the Sheriff was asking the Board to concur in his appointment of Francis Meier, Fox Lake and P. Alden Bergquist of Lake Forest. But it was not to be so simple.

Janet Morrison voiced the first mild objection by suggesting that since the County has been cut up into five geographic districts for the purpose of electing County Board members, and since the present three members originate from three of the five, perhaps her colleagues should consider appointing the other two members from the remaining unrepresented Districts 2 and 5.

Harry Robin rose at once. "I don't know if you call 'two' a concentration. This Board enacted the ordinance adopting the Merit Commission system to protect the men of the Sheriff's office," and he continued, voice throbbing, to describe the comfort it is to the men to know "after an election that their families will be looked after and that the spoil system will not be there."

Dr. Sandee, softly inquired if there wasn't some requirement in the law about dividing the political party representation on the Commission. Sounds of restless disagreement filled the Great Hall. "No no - nothing like that," murmured a number of supervisors testily.

A few minutes later when Assistant State's Attorney Reese read the law aloud: "Appointed by the County Sheriff and approved by the County Board. And there shall be no more than three members affiliated with the same political party" - the silence in the Chamber was thunderous.

At no time did anyone make the slanderous suggestion that either of the nominees was a Democrat (one of the present members is, admittedly). And interestingly enough, the battle to keep alive the two party system - at least on the Merit Commission level - was waged by Norm Geary and Bill Lea, Republican committeemen both. "I do think we have to have minority representation," said Geary. "I would move to table this matter until the new Board comes in."

Answered Robin: "This is telling a man how he is going to have to vote in order to retain that position."

"It's the law," cried several voices, "the law!"

In the end the matter was deferred to the next Board meeting - to be held April 28th, before the seating of the new members. It should be a for-real circus!

on May 5 through May 7, 1972.

This weekend workshop will provide a better understanding of the lake environment in Lake County. The course is intended for the concerned layman, lake property owners, as well as representatives of property owner groups and/or lake associations. The course is a non-credit offering with no educational prerequisites.

Basic ecological concepts and methods of lake pollution analysis and control will be the focus of the workshop.

Registration for this workshop must be limited to the first thirty paid applications. The registration fee is $12.

Additional inquiries concerning the workshop can be directed to either Mr. Chuck Engbretson or Mr. Dick Meginniss, CLC workshop instructors, at 223-8193.

LAKE COUNTY FOREST PRESERVE

DISTRICT TO OBSERVE ARBOR DAY

The Lake County Forest Preserve District will commemorate the 100th anniversary of Arbor Day on April 28th in three forest preserves. President E. Kenney Harlan in describing the activities said, "The planting of trees is an expression of faith in the future. A tree planted by a child is never forgotten; in planting a tree a child learns the importance of doing something worthwhile for others. For this reason, we have invited elementary school children to share in the District's observance of Arbor Day."

With the cooperation of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Jim Flood, the Forest Preserve District has asked all elementary schools in the County to send student representatives to three Preserves on that day to participate in the celebration. Each child will plant a "native oak" seedling provided by the District. The events will occur at Lakewood Forest Preserve at 11:30 a.m., at Captain Daniel Wright Woods at 1:30 p.m., and at Van Patten Woods at 3:00 p.m.

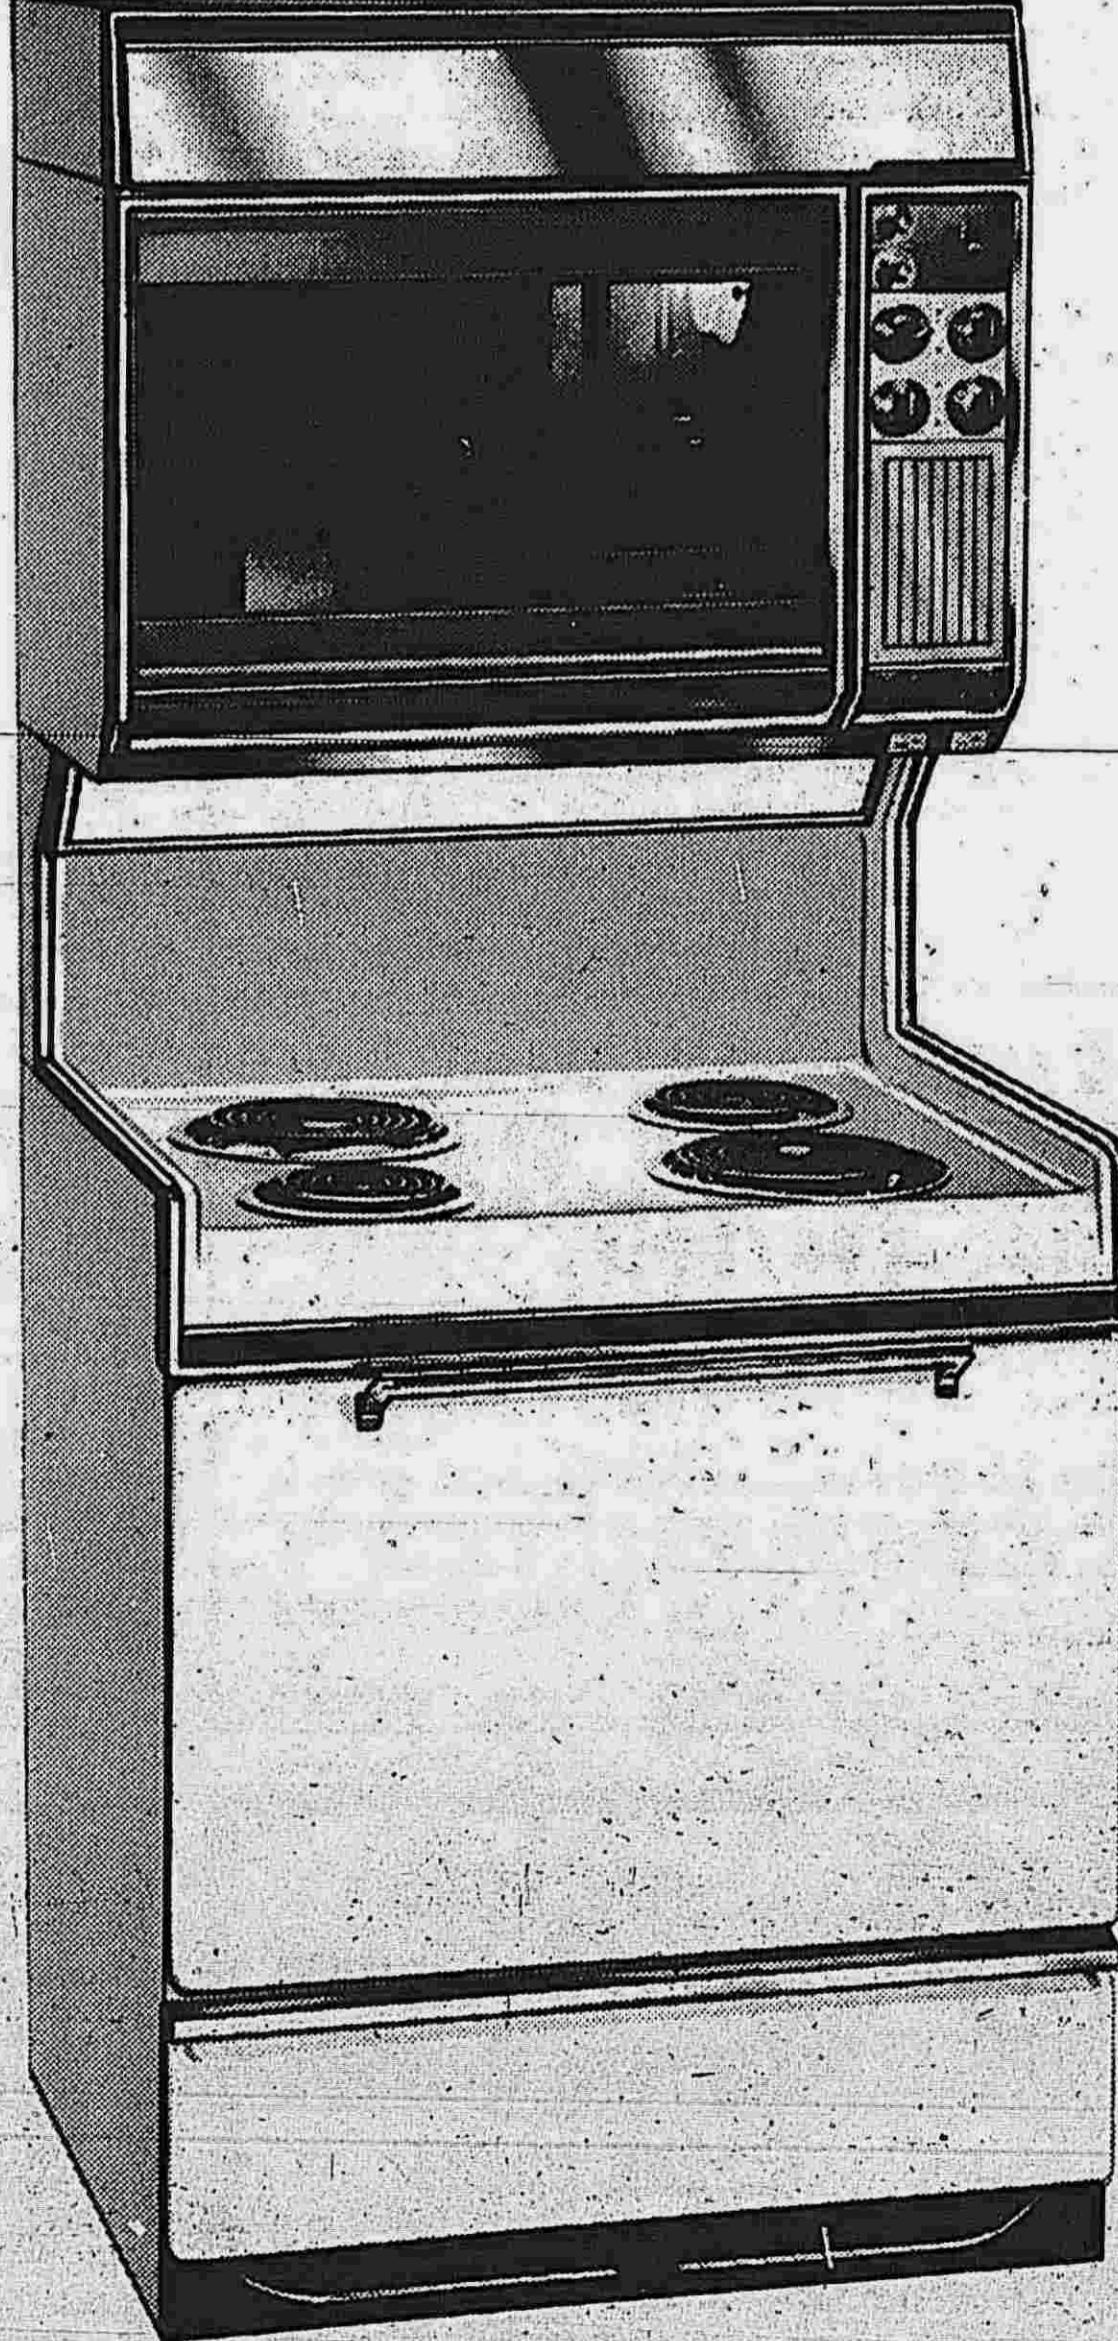

If you like to cook, but don't like to clean, you'll like doing both with a self-cleaning electric range.

The self-cleaning electric range cleans the entire oven... oven shelves, inner oven door and window. Surface units are self-cleaning too. A self-cleaning electric range gets everything cleaned, without work or messy chemicals. The cost to clean? Only about 8¢. You really clean up on that one.

You'll like cooking with your electric oven, too. It's fully insulated, so it warms up faster, maintains even temperature. And because there's no pilot light you can put frozen food in the oven, set an automatic timer, and it won't start cooking until you want it to.

So get a self-cleaning electric range. You'll love the way it cooks and cleans.

Happy Birthday and many happy returns to Erna Fridell who will celebrate on April 27th.

Marie Loomis of Lakeview subdivision celebrated her birthday on April 25th. The Loomis' have just returned after spending the winter months in Florida. The way the weather has been here at home I'll bet they wish they could have stayed another month.

The Newcomers Club of the Welcome Wagon held a progressive dinner on April 15th. The group of 30 people began the evening at the James Larson home on Grapevine Ave. for cocktails and hors d'oeuvres. They proceeded to the Edward Brundridge home for the salad course. From there the group traveled to Beach Grove Road, Fox Lake and Spring Grove. The menu was Italian fare and delicious according to the dinner party, a good time was had by all.

The chicken pox has now hit the Zelen household with Bobby, Chris and Scotty breaking out. Little Betsy is waiting her turn.

Happy 24th Wedding Anniversary to Don and Barb Bjork on April 20. Also, happy birthday to Don on the same day.

Don't forget the PTA Fun Fair at the Channel Lake School on Saturday, May 6th. Fun games and prizes along with refreshments will be the order of the day. Mark this date on your calendar.

Dennis Murphy in Student Aide Program at ISU

Dennis Murphy, 321 Oakwood Dr., Antioch, is one of eight Illinois State University students monitoring public areas of central campus buildings daily as a part of a new student Aide program in the ISU Department of Public Safety.

The four women and four men students work in three hour shifts in an effort to locate hazards or situations which could cause harm or injury to students, faculty, staff and visitors to the campus. The program has been underway since the beginning of the second semester.

The eight students wear red and white arm patches which identify them as Student Aides. They carry no radios or arms and do not work with or assist uniformed officers of the Public Safety department.

Rather, they are assigned to look for and report hazards such as holes in the ground or on sidewalks, bad stairways, fire extinguishers missing or empty, glass needing replacing, sidewalk obstructions, or strange activity of persons or animals.

Their responsibility is to report hazards by phone to Robert Abner, ISU Public Safety staff member who supervises the Student Aide program, who then determines what action should be taken.

The Student Aides are to attempt to handle no situations except those involving an emergency to a person, and are then to call for assistance and return to the scene to await arrival of aid. They are not authorized to administer first aid.

Some 20 students applied for six positions which were established for the new program. Schedule conflicts made it necessary to divide the six positions among eight persons.

The candidates were interviewed and given Civil Service tests, and the eight who seemed to be the most qualified were selected for the program. They are paid at regular student hourly rates, which start at $1.60 per hour.

Mr. Abner indicated that the program is experimental and that the Student Aides may become more involved in the future in the total effort to make the campus a safer place.

Robert W. Depke, Chairman of the Highway & Transportation Committee of the Lake County Board of Supervisors, announces that the employees of the Lake County Highway Department have qualified for an outstanding citizenship award by the United Community Services of Lake County, Inc., through their generous contributions to the 1971-72 United Fund campaign. Their gifts set a high standard of employee giving in the Lake County area. This is the second continuous year that the Highway Department has been recognized.

As a result of this award, Chairman Depke praised the Highway Department and their employees not only for their contributions to this most worthwhile County function but also to the services rendered to the people of Lake County in their maintenance and construction of County highways, which further gives evidence of the reason that the Lake County Highway Department is recognized as one of the top Highway Departments in the State of Illinois.

Is your dachshund waddling down the street looking like a gigantic sausage with four feet? Is your terrier beginning to resemble a roly-poly teddy bear?

The chances are that Rover is overweight and needs a diet to trim the excess pounds off.

Obesity is common in pampered pets, especially city dogs which get little exercise, and those dogs which are mature or approaching old age.

I have found that these dogs are indulged by their owners with sweets, treats and snacks between meals. Their diets are poorly balanced -- too high in sugars and fats.

The majority of overweight dogs, like overweight people, simply take in more calories than they burn up and the unused calories are stored as fat in the body.

Diets for obese dogs should have the caloric intake reduced. The fine art of reducing is simple: discontinue snacks, institute a balanced diet and proper exercise.

I have found that there are no crash diets for dogs or drinking dog's diets. Do-it-yourself diets can be dangerous.

Take your dog to the veterinarian who will check the animal for physical problems, weight him to determine how much he needs to lose, and prescribe a sound low-calorie diet program. He may also suggest safe exercises based on the animal's physical condition and age.

Your veterinarian can recommend many compounded special diets or he may suggest mixing several foods together. There are special diets for the overweight dog as well as the dog with intestinal problems.

It is quite possible that an older dog who is overweight might also have heart trouble or some other disorder. For this reason, a do-it-yourself diet is very dangerous.

Your dog's doctor may also prescribe mineral or vitamin supplements which can be added to his food.

The conditions under which a dog lives modify the animal's nutritional requirements. Dogs confined to apartments or small pens need less calories than dogs permitted to exercise in larger pens or yards.

Hard working dogs, such as racing Greyhounds, working border Collies or the milking mother, have a high nutritional requirement.

Whenever your dog is not eating properly or is on the road to obesity, consult your veterinarian. Loss of appetite is a sign of possible trouble.

When the doctor recommends a diet, it is up to YOU to make sure Rover sticks with his diet. I haven't heard of any dogs who are able to raid the refrigerator for a midnight snack.

The rules are simple. Follow the doctor's orders. And, no between meal snacks or tidbits from the family dinner table.

"Outlook '72"

A distinguished team of editors and correspondents from The Christian Science Monitor will hold a current affairs meeting called "Outlook '72" in the International Amphitheatre in Chicago on Monday, May 15th at 8 P.M.

Penetrating analysis of the crucial topics of the day is expected at the meeting, which will be addressed by John Hughes, the Monitor's dynamic, Pulitzer Prize-winning Editor.

The news "behind the news" will be discussed by Godfrey "Budge" Sperling, National Political Correspondent of the Monitor; Geoffrey Godsell, the Monitor's Overseas News Editor; and Guy Halverson, prize-winning Chief of the Monitor's Midwestern bureau.

"Outlook '72" - The Christian Science Monitor looks at where we are and where we are going" is the topic of the meeting which will include talks, a panel discussion, and a question-and-answer period. The meeting is open to the public without charge.

National and international trends will be assessed by the paper's news Editor, Welsh-born, English educated John Hughes. Mr. Hughes won the Pulitzer Prize for international reporting in 1967, and has served as Editor of the Monitor since October of 1970.

Insights about the upcoming presidential race will be shared by Godfrey Sperling. Over his years in Washington, an institution has developed around Mr. Sperling. Early in the morning he gathers for breakfast a dozen or so top Washington reporters and a leading political figure in the news. At these breakfasts there is plenty of opportunity for background information and floating trial balloons.

The crisis in the Middle East will be discussed by Overseas News Editor Geoffrey Godsell, who speaks Arabic, French, Italian and German fluently, and is also well versed in racial affairs.

Political and economic trends at the grass roots level will be analyzed by Midwest bureau chief, Guy Halverson, who received the 1971 Alfred P. Sloane award for distinguished public service in highway safety.

Arrangements for the "Outlook '72" meeting in Chicago on Monday, May 15th at 8:00 P.M. are being made by representatives of thirty-five Churches of Christ, Scientist in the Chicagoland area.

Mr. Hughes and his team will be introduced to the Amphitheatre audience by the Honorable Charles H. Percy, United States Senator from Illinois.

Plumbing Code Adopted

Adoption of the Illinois Plumbing Code as the official plumbing code for the unincorporated areas of Lake County by the Lake County Board of Supervisors April 18 has been heralded as a major step forward by spokesmen for the Plumbing and Heating Industry of Lake and McHenry Counties.

Commenting on the action by the board Gregory W. Streb, of Sherman Plumbing & Heating, Inc., Crystal Lake and President of the Plumbing and Heating Contractors Assn. of Lake & McHenry Counties, said, "The adoption of the state plumbing code is a major step in insuring the people of Lake County sound plumbing installations which are vital to the health of the people."

"Responsible plumbing and heating contractors normally install plumbing in accordance with the code, but this will insure that all plumbing is done properly and in accordance with minimum standards as established by the state plumbing code," Streb added.

In addition to the plumbing code the Lake County Board also adopted a revised building fee schedule raising it to a minimum fee of $125.00 per dwelling unit.

A three day festival of 4-H Club skits put on by 21 clubs will feature Jim Jordan of WKRS radio, as one of the judges. Mr. Jordan, who has served as music director of WKRS radio, Waukegan for 12 years, will evaluate the 4-H Club performances in the Annual Share-The-Fun Festival.

Preliminary programs were already held on Monday, and Tuesday evening, April 24 and 25 at the Lake County Farm Bureau and the finals competition will take place on Friday, April 28 at 7:00 P.M. The public is cordially invited. Clubs may perform in one of four categories: drama, music, dance, or miscellaneous. The amateur productions began taking shape months ago as club members and leaders combined enthusiasm and creativity to produce an act of 4 to 7 minutes long, according to the Assistant Extension Adviser, Bill Messerschmidt. "Basically, the Share-The-Fun strives to give 4-H members an opportunity to have fun in developing an act and entertaining others. It also serves to discover and develop talent in 4-H members and to make 4-H programs more attractive and self-satisfying", Messerschmidt adds.

Besides the county festival, a statewide festival is held at the Illinois State Fair in August. Lake County selects one club to represent 4-H down at the State Fair.

Variety is evident in the club acts. On Monday, Antioch

Special recognition was given to Mr. Burnell Russell for his 5 years of dedication, patience, and enthusiasm in instructing the more than 100 youngsters in public speaking. Mr. Russell received a plaque which was given affectionately from "All his (Jr. Toastmasters) Kids". Mr. Francis Wappenstein of Libertyville Toastmasters presented the plaque.

Inexpensive Stocking & Great Fishing for that Stream near You

A new era in fresh-water sports fishing may have been born this month.

If the results expected by naturalists come true, game fish may be stocked henceforth at a cost of around 1 cent a pound instead of the $1 a pound it now costs in many areas.

What members of Salmon Unlimited, a not-for-profit Chicago group, and Hinde Engineering Company, Highland Park, Illinois manufacturers of aeration systems, the co-sponsors, have started doing is raising fish on the natural materials present in vast quantities in aerated waste treatment lagoons.

Here, fry and fingerlings grow on free food instead of on the imported artificial foods now utilized in hatcheries.

Though the first batches will be planted in Lake Michigan, later releases could well bring terrific angling to those many streams which now flow, lifelessly, through rural, suburban and even central cities.

Depending on local tastes and, to some extent, water conditions, catfish, trout, bass, walleyed pike and other species could readily be grown and planted.

All that need be done to prepare stream sites, according to J. Nelson Hinde, president of Hinde Engineering Co. and an ardent conservationist, is to provide tertiary treatment to the waste water now being fed into them. Started at the upstream side, treatment would be continued for as far downstream as fishing would be desired.

Tertiary treatment will reduce quantities of organic materials present in the effluent to controllable levels, he states.

Tertiary treatment will also add to the stream the oxygen so badly needed by fish.

Fingerlings grown in the treatment lagoons themselves would provide the stock.

Here, they thrive on the basic foods created by natural biological processes from organic wastes, nitrates and phosphates-compounds no one really wants. Their environment rivals that of a clear mountain stream: high oxygen content throughout the water-practically no gases or other harmful anaerobically-created products-plenty of edible materials.

Besides cost reductions of up to 99 percent, there's another advantage of waste treatment pond feeding. Aerated-lagoon stock grow larger than hatchery fish raised on artificial food for the same length of time. Larger fish, of course, are less prone to being eaten by predators.

Lagoon-raised fingerlings, reared on natural food, when released also know how to eat living, swimming organisms which abound in the rivers. Hatchery fish often starve before they learn.

A tour through The Advertiser was next, and Mr. Ronald Anderson took us around and we saw just what goes into putting a paper to print. We were taken through the photo lab and were shown how a picture is set up for print. Also how it is run through the presses and combined to make up the paper.

By then it was time for lunch, and we went for a fun lunch at the Taste Freez on Louis and 173. Off to the Zion Roller Rink after where we spent the afternoon skating to music. Needless to say we all went home tired and happy. Our thanks to our Leader, Mrs. Helen Lagerstrom for planning such a fun day.

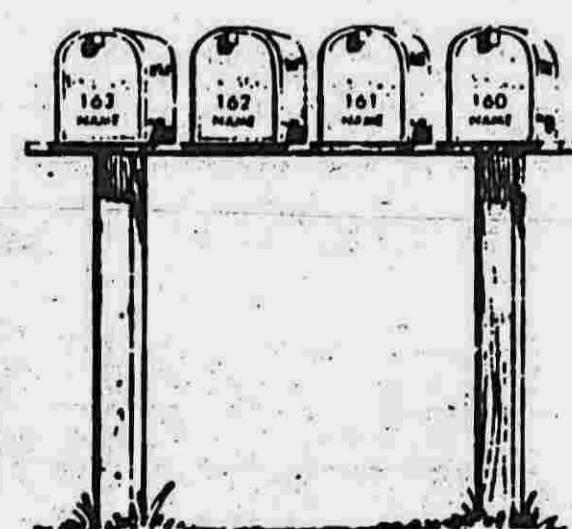

Plans are now in the making for a Wisconsin hike later this month.

affords typical benefits. These gamesters thrive in the ponds and warm flowing water typical of many rivers across the U. S. They grow fast, yet stocked in the numbers anticipated can readily be caught even by the most youthful anglers. At time of stocking, a year old, measurements show they will weigh 3/4 pound each. When caught many will have grown to 15 inches and 2 pounds. Their survival rates are high. And they offer the added advantage of eliminating undesirable species by eating minnows in great numbers.

Another benefit of the small-mouth bass and similar game fish is that with today's know-how and low cost it isn't necessary to try to return areas in the rivers to their original state for natural reproduction-an almost impossible job anyway, because of the build-up of silt deposits in most streams. Rearing will be accomplished in ponds, just as it is done for lakes-and stocking will be accomplished simply by removing screens between the

Lester Ring Attends Industrial Management Institute

The Spring Term of the Certificate Program at the Industrial Management Institute, Lake Forest College, opened with twenty-four new participants representing eleven companies and corporations. Included in the new class is: Lester G. Ring, 1812 Monaville Road, Lake Villa, who is employed by Johnson Motors in Waukegan as a Methods Engineer.

Participants in the middle management training program at the Industrial Management Institute are selected from the middle management of the business and industrial firms in the suburban Chicago area where they are employed in engineering, manufacturing and production, marketing and sales, operations and other varied departments. Fifty-three companies are currently members of the Institute which was developed in 1946 by Abbott Laboratories, Johns-Manville Products Corporation and Fansteel Inc., in cooperation with Lake Forest College faculty, to provide broadly trained middle management personnel.

Since World War II, the Institute has grown from an enrollment of 16 to 539 in 1971-72. The majority of participants range in age from 30 to 44, and come from a wide variety of company departments and educational backgrounds. Approximately one-third of the men are college graduates; the remaining two-thirds is equally divided among men who have had some college work and those who are high school graduates. The criteria used for admission to the IMI program are job performance and potential growth rather than formal academic requirements.

Opinion - Athletics & Program Cuts

The cutbacks in athletics at the grade school and especially at the high school have brought to the surface a lot of questions that have previously been ignored and may pose substantial problems if the reductions remain in effect for any length of time.

Athletics have always enjoyed a peculiar position in the hearts and spirits of students and townspeople. While it is of course only one aspect of a well-rounded educational institution, its influence has always seemed greater in proportion to its appropriation or budget.

The cliché of all athletes as well scrubbed, clean cut, pure of heart idealists is of course not a valid one. Athletes on the scholastic or professional level are first and foremost individuals, much the same as are musicians, actors or singers. And yet the mystique still exists. Winning one for the "Gipper" or the "old college try" are still frequently turned phrases.

The spirit of athletics is still infectious. Athletics often portray the idealism and commitment that when blocked in socially acceptable avenues of action manifest themselves in apathy, or worse, result in discontent and militancy.

Apathy has always been a deterrent to educational progress and character building. Militancy, on the other hand, is not necessarily negative, but during the volatile formative years can take a destruction channel that a more mature age would reject.

Drop out rates, while not summarily effected by athletics do indeed show an increase when there is little at a school to identify with.

In effect then, the cuts in athletics mean more to a school than the loss of a few trophies. It, like all the other programs, has a direct effect on personality growth and the formation of socially acceptable habits.

What then can be done Letters of outrage to the school board are, of course, pointless. Deficit spending has to be stopped somewhere.

What probably then should be done is a solid commitment on the part of parents (and not just parents of athletes) to find a means of reinstating all extra curricular activities, either by a referendum or state financing so that their children can mature into well-rounded individuals able to cope with a rapidly changing world.

Summer Archery Leagues Forming Now

On Wednesday, April 19, the Illinois Conservation Archers completed their third year of indoor leagues. This year eight teams of four shooters each competed in the twenty one week season with the following three teams finishing 1st, 2nd and 3rd respectively. Team No. 3-Ray Olson, John Lips, Ed Quarzenski, Sandy Landt, and Ellen Eisenhauer, Sandy and Ellen each shot $\frac{1}{2}$ season. Team No. 1 - Bob Haisma, Dave Smith, John Borgers, and Bea Matthews. Team No. 4-Art Duccomun, Walt Johnson, Herb Henderson, Greg DeSommer.

It was an enjoyable season, but with summer right around the corner, the club is looking forward to once again moving outdoors to their beautiful range located off highway 83, just north of Lake Villa.

The summer leagues will be forming on May 3 and youth as well as adult archers are welcome to join. The teams are set up by the club according to the shooters' ability and everyone receives a handicap similar to a bowling league. So individuals can join and be assured of being placed on a team.

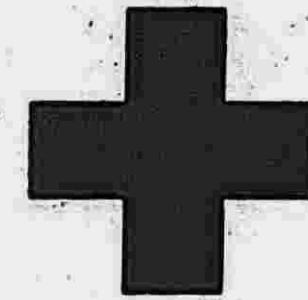

The Illinois Conservation Archers is an affiliated club with the Illinois Archery Association and the National Field Archery Association. Our range has passed all the necessary safety and accuracy inspections conducted by the NFAA and received one of the highest ratings in the state.

Besides the summer and winter archery leagues, the club also offers several other activities. We have a beautiful 28 target field range which we are proud to show off for your inspection. We also have a 30 target broad-head range set in natural hunting conditions which the hunters would be especially interested in. The club also offers a beautiful camping and picnic area and sponsors several club activities every year from Sunday afternoon club shoots to night shoots and picnics, parties, and banquets.

For those familiar with archery it is the perfect place to come out and practice. For the novice, it is a great place to learn the proper skills of shooting a bow and arrow. Archery is also one of the sports the whole family can enjoy together. For membership information, call President, Russ Landt at 312-395-2539 or membership secretary Pat Lips at 312-546-1536.

Wilmot Racing Centers on Old Track

A combination of late spring snows and rain have halted work on the new Kenosha County Speedway stock car track and now attention is centering on the action opening on the old track rather than the new track as had been planned.

The old track is still in an unchanged condition which will make it possible for the Interstate Racing Association of Super modifieds and sportsman stock cars to race on that surface until the new track can be completed.

The same weather conditions that have prevented work on the new track, have also prevented changes that would have made the old track also unusable.

An opening of May 27 is now expected with a Holiday race following on Monday May 29.

IRA Members will learn more about the details in a meeting this Thursday night, April 27, at the VFW Hall in Lake Villa. Also expected for discussion will be a plan that will count heavily on the IRA members to assist in the moving of the grandstands to the new track when that facility is ready for racing. Once the weekly Saturday night racing starts on the old track, it will take a large labor force to move the stands in a week's time so there will not be an interruption of racing once the season is under way.

The old track closed with plans to open on the new track, last September after the Wilmot school board had purchased the race site for expansion. Lack of progress through the winter has put the plans far behind schedule and the wet grounds have prevented any catch up work schedules.

The Interstate Racing Association will be starting their fifth consecutive year of racing promotions at the Kenosha County Speedway.

On Saturday, April 22nd Antioch's varsity track team placed second in a field of twelve entrants in the prestigious Lake Forest Invitational.

The second place finish was called a "good showing" by Coach Gerry Sandberg. "The weather has hampered us," he said, "but I think we're on the right road now."

Antioch's short range men had a good day as Rick Simon and Bob Bailey placed 4th and 5th respectively in the 100 yard dash. Simon also placed 5th in the 220.

Distance runners Gary Mandehr and Tim O'Neill racked up some needed points as they finished 1st and 4th in the 880 yard dash. Mandehr later won the mile over a large field of competitors. In other events Pat Michalak finished 5th in the high hurdles and Bob Becvar also captured a 5th in the 180 yard low hurdles.

Weather Cancels Races at Speedway

Once again this weekend the unseasonal weather forced the cancellation of the opening races at the Waukegan Speedway. The first green flag is now expected to fall next Saturday and Sunday night.

The races scheduled for this coming weekend will see two important changes. First, the 50 lap April Championship races originally slated for April 29 will be replaced by a normal 30 lap feature.

Second, the Sunday races will switch to nights April 30 due to the change to Daylight Savings Time Sunday morning. With the one hour subtracted, promoter Gordon Sill figured fans and drivers would just have time enough to get home from Saturday's events before returning for Sunday's races.

Weatherman Best Again at Lake Geneva improve the interest of the warmer weather racers.

Several new modifieds have been built and need shakedown running before the summer season of heavy schedules. Driver changes have doubled the need for this early season racing. Two Milwaukee area drivers with new season assignments are Carl Schultz and Ron Marish. Schultz has taken over the modified driven to the IRA Lake Geneva Championship by Whitey Harris in 1971. Marish will be driving the winged modified handled by Tom Anderson of Antioch at Lake Geneva last year.

Marish finished only 9th in the feature at Lake Geneva two weeks ago and Schultz was out of the top 10 at the end.

The four classes including late models, modifieds, sportsman and spectator type cars offer both open and closed wheel racing with heats and features for all groups.

The Lake Geneva Raceway is located on Old Bloomfield Road, one mile south of the city of Lake Geneva. Time trials on Saturdays are at 7:00 P.M.

Sequoits Sweep Pair

Antioch's diamond squad gave a pair of thumpings to conference rivals, Grant and Lake Forest, last week to boost their loop record to 2 wins and a loss, good for third place in the league.

Coach Bill Seemann said that his men were "starting to come around" because of extra practice and improvement in the weather. However, he noted that his men were far from polished yet and would improve as the season progressed.

Seemann's thoughts were no comfort to the Lake Forest crew as the Sequoits, led by the battery of Glen Amundsen and Jim Revell, put a clamp on the north shore team to win going away 5-1 on April 18th.

The Sequoits won on the arm of Amundsen, who gave up only three hits in seven innings and the bat of Revell, who hit the team's first home run.

Antioch put a five spot on the board in the third and coasted to the victory. The Sequoits' scoring was led off by centerfielder, Fred Popp, who reached first on a bunt by the right fielder. Left fielder, Jerry Jacob, tripled him home and scored himself when the Lake Forest pitcher mishandled a grounder off the bat of Greg Crutchfield. Then Revell got the team's initial four bagger. Brian Zale closed out the scoring in the inning by singling, stealing second and scoring on an error by the right fielder.

Amundsen, who won his first game of the young season, turned in a strong performance. The junior right-hander struck out five and walked only one as he went the distance.

On April 20th the Sequoits pulled out a squeaker beating Grant 5-4. Antioch took a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning without the aid of a hit. Tim Mieure started it all when he was hit by a pitch. Fred Popp got on via a miscue by the shortstop and both scored when Grants' first baseman let a throw get by him on Jerry Jacob's infield roller.

John Gretz

Sports Editor

Grant countered with four runs in the bottom of the second, based largely on the strength of pitcher Dave Miller's bases loaded double.

The Sequoits got single runs in the third, fifth and sixth to win the squeaker.

In the third, Jacob walked, stole second and went all the way to third when the throw got by the shortstop. He scored on a wild pitch.

The Sequoits got another single run in the fifth on a double to left by Crutchfield and a single by Revell.

Antioch closed out the scoring in the sixth on Dan Mahar's single, a balk, a bunt single by Charlie Chapman and a perfectly executed suicide squeeze by Mieure scoring Bill Toman who had come in to run for Mahar.

Seemann's nine will face a tough week ahead as they have games scheduled from Tuesday through Friday with a possible makeup on Saturday.

Pitchers set to go will be Jacob on Tuesday at Wauconda, Amundsen on Wednesday at Round Lake,

Sequoit Linksman Win First Match - Drop Two Others

Antioch's golf squad spent another frustrating week on the links as they lost two matches and won the finale.

Coach Roy Nelson's men opened the week's activities on Tuesday losing a heart breaker to Grant by one stroke, 205 to 204.

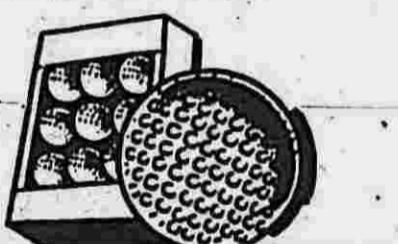

Wednesday's match with North Chicago was no contest as the lake shore powerhouse easily defeated their inland rivals 198 to 171. The north shore schools are perennial odds on favorites because of greater student involvement and more long green to match the fast greens.

On Thursday, the Sequoits' linksmen broke into the win column by defeating Round Lake 200 to 214.

Individual scores for the week were: (April 18th) Jon Lasco, 48; Lee Bolton, 50; Bob Siperko, 53; and Jeff Dykiel, 54.

(April 19th) Lasco, 48; Bolton, 48; Siperko, 50; and Greg Erickson, 52.

(April 20th) Lasco, 47; Erickson, 49; Jim Anderson, 51; and Siperko, 53.
